him (Hamborsky) that Henry Stevens had threatened his life, and also that they discussed the divorce laws of different states, in effort to obtain divorce evidence, so as to marry Mrs. Mills.

To this Rev. Szabo stated that he was familiar with that story and that in his opinion, Rev. Hamborsky never had been told anything such as he stated. He said that he did not believe Dr. Hall had ever told the reverend anything of the kind.

Operative asked Rev. Szabo if he knew whether Rev. Hamborsky had anything in common with Dr. Hall. Rev. Szabo stated that there was no reason for Rev. Hamborsky having any ecclesiastical business with Dr. Hall.

Operative asked Rev. Szabo whether or not the Hungarian Church would take any action against Rev. Hamborsky for making such a statement and he replied that he did not think so. Operative also asked if he could think of any motive wherefore Rev. Hamborsky should make such a statement and he said he could not conceive any.

Rev. Szabo also said that Dr. Hall would never tell another clergyman the things he is supposed to have told Rev. Hamborsky. He said that Rev. Andrew Kosa, who is now pastor of the 1st Reformed Hungarian Church at Somerset and Division Sts., which is the church that Rev. Hamborsky built in 1915 would be able to give further information in reference to the above. He also stated that he would furnish names of the congregation.

Operative asked Rev. Szabo if there had been any other causes that hastened the departure of Rev. Hamborsky from his church and Rev. Szabo stated that he had heard from some of the congregation that Rev. Hamborsky drank heavily and even appeared in the pulpit under the influence of intoxicants.

Operative asked Rev. Szabo if he knew whether the Rev. Hamborsky had been intimate with any of the women of the congregation. He replied that he could not say anything as to that, but there was some other reason why he had to depart, the cause of which he did not know.
